FATE OF MADERO WILL BE SETTLED BY THE MEXICAN CABINET AT TRIAL TONIGHT

Defeated President Sits Gloomily in His Prison in the Annex Waiting Hearing This Evening Before Nine Judges All His Bitter Enemies: Fears Held That He Too May Be Executed.

FELIX DIAZ ANNOUNCES THAT HE WILL BE CANDIDATE FOR PRESIDENCY OF THE REPUBLIC

Huerta May Also Be in the Race in Election Which Will Be Called at Once; Estimated 3,000 Killed and 7,000 Wounded in Battle in the Streets; Property Loss Will Run Into Many Millions; Revolutionists Still Active.

Mexico City, Feb. 20.—The Mexican capital was in a state of uncertainty this morning in regard to the fate of heads of the old administration, General Huerta's order preventing the departure of Francisco Madero gave rise to many rumors and conjectures. Means how the attitude of Zapata and others, leaders of the southern and northern rebels, is occasioning anxiety. The number of dead and wounded of the revolutionaries during the fighting in the streets show that about 3,000 persons were killed and 7,000 wounded. These are not government figures, nor will the government be able to make any reliable calculation. In most cases no official records were kept of the bodies which were burned.

Numerous instances are known in which whole families are killed by exploding shrapnel or by the destruction of machine guns. The great majority of the dead were non-combatants, including a large proportion of women and children. Estimates as to the loss of the property are necessarily inaccurate. There is no doubt that the damage amounts to many millions. These are the days of refugees. The families of those who stood high in favor with Madero fled from the city. The wife of the ex-president has gone on further than their ranch in suburb, but the other members of the family are supposed to be in Vera Cruz. It is said the ex-president was to be deported from Vera Cruz much as Porfirio Diaz was sent away and that his wife was to be a substitute for a trial for the murder of Colonel Riverol, whom he was accused of killing at the time of his arrest in the national palace.

The formal action of the Mexican cabinet is to be taken on Feb. 22 before the attorney general of the republic, and it was declared that the charter was to be left pending until an attempt to return to the north. Another report was that the government was considering the appointment of a military commission to examine him.

Diaz Denies Responsibility.

Felix Diaz today denied responsibility for the execution of Gustavo Madero, his nephew, Adolfo Bassu, superintendent of the National police. The official report on the death of Gustavo Madero says:

"He was being taken from one part of the arsenal to another when he made a dash for liberty. The officers in charge fired at him and killed him."

Adolfo Bassu, an old man, was killed inside the rebel camp. The death of Gustavo Madero is still the topic of conversation among the population. Many people today sought souvenirs of the dead politician and one person paid $25 for a fragment of his eyeball.

Soldiers Are Rewarded.

Mexico City, Feb. 20.—A new interpretation of the soldiers' oath of allegiance was given at a general meeting addressing the members of the military school at Chilpancingo. These students were the ones who began the revolt in the capital. Although Huerta directed the campaign against Felix Diaz with vigor for more than a week he told these boys that they acted properly and lived up to their obligations as army men in "striving for the welfare of their country."

All of them received commissions and promotions. There is to be no laxity in ordinary army discipline under the new regime. This was indicated by the prompt executions in one of the court yards of the national palace today of a bugler who had lied on his superior officer, Kenneth Turner, of Los Angeles, who was arrested without any evidence. The bugler, during the battle, was captured by the rebels.

General Huerta regards himself as nothing more than a provisional president and declared today that the general elections will be held promptly for selecting a permanent administration.

The Huerta administration has made no plans or promises or is it handicapped by promises made by Felix Diaz, declared his leader to day.

It begins as a business administration promising nothing more than good government.

General Huerta's cabinet will take the oath of office tonight and the routine business of the government will then be resumed. Dispatches from the interior today told of the activity of Zapataists at various points and of fresh outbreaks of state of siege, headed by the ex-governor of Hidalgo. Although willing to come to reasonable terms with the rebels, the new administration is determined to use the army for the suppression of independent anarchistic bands which have hitherto counted on the support of those whose sole object was the removal of Madero.

The belief began to spread this afternoon that the hour of reprisals had passed with the execution of Gustavo Madero, although General Huerta's action in detaining the ex-president aroused some suspicion. All the banks were open today and street car service was partly resumed. The danger of foreign intervention in Mexico is over, is expressed by the newspapers. It is popularly believed that the foreign nations will make no objection to recognition of the new government since all constitutional forms have been properly observed. The supreme court today ratified the change.

In an effort to satisfy a popular in which he considers Madero treated him. With the exception, possibly, of two others, all the ministers have personal grievances, thus making the cabinet-jury scarcely a friendly one.

Madero Remains a Prisoner.

Mexico City, Mex., Feb. 20.—The deposed president of Mexico, was still in the balance this morning. Preparations had been made at midnight for his departure with the members of his family into exile but these were suddenly halted by orders from General Huerta. Senora Madero and the ex-president's two sisters and his aged father, together with the family of ex-vice president Suarez, waited at the station ready to depart for Vera Cruz and France for Europe.

But at the hour which had been fixed for departure, congress was still in session, discussing the budget. Madero and the rest of the party of exiles sat waiting impatiently for more than two hours when they were informed by ex-Foreign Minister Lascurnain, that the ex-president would be prevented from joining them on their journey.

Senor Lascurnain declared that he was unable to give an explanation of the reasons Madero was delaying his intentions of congress and General Huerta, in regard to her husband, kept profusely. She and her party then left the railroad station and went back to the city.

Only the optimistic residents of the Mexican capital pretend to believe that the substitution of General Huerta for Francisco Madero will result in the restoration of complete peace throughout the republic. It remains to be seen how many of the rebel leaders will accept the invitation extended to them by Huerta to join in an effort to restore normal conditions. It appears to be taken for granted that Emiliano Zapata, the ironclad revolutionary, will remain in the city as long as possible.

Asks Russia to Mediate.

St. Petersburg, Russia.—Bourbons today asked Russia to act as arbitrator on the questions of issue between Roumania and Bulgaria.

London, England, Feb. 20.—A terrific three days' battle between 100,000 Bulgarians and 70,000 Turks, at Bulair, has just concluded, according to a dispatch today from Constantinople. Each side is said to have lost 2,500 men. Enver Bey, leader of the Young Turks, is reported among the wounded.

and a new portfolio has been added to the cabinet, that of agriculture. This is held by Manuel Garza Adame, who was identified with the chief movement in the north and is now under bail on a charge of violating the neutrality laws of the United States. Senor Adame's chief work will be to study out a solution of the agrarian problem, which is been the subject of attack by rebels both in the north and south.

THEIR DECIDE MADERO AND TONIGHT.

The fall of Francisco Madero will result in the hands of the new cabinet and will doubtless be decided tonight. The ex-president is now the personal prisoner of General Huerta, who refuses to accept the responsibility for his disposition.

General Huerta was on the point of permitting Madero and Suarez to leave the country, but was counselled to delay action by close friends who considered it inadvisable. Madero would not use his influence to have the rebels released.

The provisional president declared he would place the case of Madero before the cabinet ministers immediately after they were sworn into office. There appeared a strong probability today that the appointment of a binary commission to examine him could be urged as a solution.
